

BREWERS' HALL
AT ALDERMANBURY SQUARE

CONFERENCES WITH CONVICTION

Inviting, intimate and undeniably impressive, Brewers' Hall exudes a unique blend of tradition, conviviality and sophistication. Located on a quiet square in the heart of the City, the Hall combines timeless elegance with contemporary refinement.

A discrete and graceful marble-floored lobby leads you to a beautiful oak staircase which takes guests to the first floor. Here you arrive at a circular reception landing and three beautifully appointed, interconnecting rooms forming a highly adaptable suite of available event space.

The bijou Committee Room lends itself to intimate meetings for up to eight guests, conference calls, a green room or office space. The pine panelled Court Room, furnished with antiques and graced by the Verona marble fireplace of Sir Charles Wheeler, who sculpted the façade on the Bank of England, is a versatile space popular for; seminars, meetings, exhibition space, fine dining and as a reception area for the main Livery Hall, for up to 80 guests standing.

The adjoining elegant oak panelled Livery Hall is flooded with natural daylight from the floor to ceiling windows that overlook the square. The doors feature hand carved architraves, whilst three magnificent chandeliers hang from the decorated ceiling. This being the largest room, it is extremely well suited to conferences, presentations and meetings for up to 100 guests.

Brewers' Hall offers a gracious setting that is enriched with layers of historical charm and character, blended perfectly with every modern convenience.

EVER SO RESPONSIBLE

We are passionate about the hospitality industry and committed to best practice environmental management and the efficient use of resources to minimise our carbon footprint. Everything we do we do with conscience. We have withdrawn plastic straws from service, all our paper napkins are 100% recycled and we use jugs of iced tap water to reduce the volume of plastic and glass in our venue. We have secured gold membership with the MCS (Marine Conservation Society) and have removed all '5 rated' fish (fish from the most unsustainable fisheries or farming systems) from our business. We are now working to reduce '4 rated' fish by 25%. We support British farmers by purchasing as much British grown produce as possible including Red Tractor certified meat and vegetables; we also use 'wonky' fruit and vegetables in our conference menus!

The Brewers' Company is a Livery Company, incorporated by Royal Charter in 1438 to regulate the brewing industry within the City of London. Today they focus on charitable activities whilst working as a trustee of philanthropic endowments. In 2018 the Brewers' Company distributed £1,940,911 via the twelve charities it administers. These include the Dame Alice Owen Foundation, supporting the Dame Alice Owen's School in Potters Bar, as well as education in Islington via a series of projects such as Upward Bound, the Music in Secondary Schools Trust, Science for Life and Philosophy for Children. The Richard Platt Foundation supports Aldenham School in Hertfordshire, a number of other schools and the community of Aldenham. Alderman James Hickson's Charity supports three almshouses, providing a home for elderly people in need, as well as educational projects through the Aldgate and Allhallows Foundation. Several smaller charities provide grants for education for young people, or for people in need.
